Senior Product Designer (UI-UX)

Mitigram is one of the most exciting Fintech companies in the Nordics. Strong growth, among the world's largest corporates and banks as our clients, and leading investors ensure we have a lot of exciting challenges and opportunities for anyone that joins at this stage.

Mitigram has developed a world-leading online marketplace built for the Trade Finance community. Our product is recognized by thousands of individuals from Montevideo to Shanghai. We are the fastest growing Trade Finance network in the market, and we are looking for someone to help us drive our growth.

Trade Finance itself is the part of banking that supports trillions of dollars' worth of trade every year, facilitating business between buyers and sellers across the globe. Without Trade Finance the world would literally stand still.

The Mitigram team is highly diverse with members from 15+ countries from leading institutions in trade, investment, risk management, software, security and compliance.

We are looking for

A senior Product Designer, reporting directly to the Chief Product Officer, to join our team on our ambitious and exciting journey to digitize and shape the future of financing global trade.

As the sole product designer within our company you shall be able to take a natural lead in defining the design strategy of our products and align it with our business goals, as well as work hands-on with the product and technology team to design and deliver solutions to our clients. You will be a fundamental figure throughout the product development cycle from the initial need and ideation stage to product release and usage follow-up.

To be successful in this role you must first and foremost have a passion for designing software products that users love to use and that ease users' daily work life. You rapidly understand complex business concepts and workflows and can turn them into easy to understand visuals. You are an enthusiastic team player that is curious, flexible and open minded. You do not need to be right (all the time) and you always focus on finding the optimal solution to sometimes conflicting needs.
